

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Plaintiff,

and

JANET A. CALDERO, et al.
Plaintiff-Intervenors

-against-

NEW YORK CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION, et al., Defendants,

and

JOHN BRENNAN, et al.
Defendant-Intervenors.

Civ. No. 96-0374
(RML)

Declaration of Marcia Jarrett in Support of Motion to Intervene

JOHN BRENNAN, et al.
Plaintiffs

-against-

JOHN ASHCROFT, et al.,
Defendants

and

JANET A. CALDERO, et al.
Defendant-Intervenors

Civ. No. 02-0256
(FB) (RML)

I, Marcia Jarrett, certify under penalty of perjury that to the best of my knowledge and recollection, the following is true and correct:

1. I am one of the individuals who benefited from the settlement agreement in United States v. New York City Board of Education. I am submitting this Declaration in support of the motion to intervene in that case and Brennan v. Ashcroft being filed by Janet Caldero et al.

2. I reside at 218-18 109th Avenue in Queens Village, New York, and am employed at P.S. 101Q by the New York City Department of Education as a Custodian Engineer Level I. Custodian Engineers Level I were formerly called Custodians, Custodian Engineers Level II were formerly called Custodian Engineers, and the Department of Education was formerly called the Board of Education. Throughout this Declaration, I will refer to the position of Custodian Engineer Level I as “Custodian” and Custodian Engineer Level II as “Custodian Engineer.” I will refer to the Department of Education as the “Board of Education.”

3. Prior to becoming a Custodian, I was employed by the Board of Education in the Correspondence Unit in the Long Island City Unit. In addition, I was employed by a Custodian as a cleaner.

4. On November 7, 1994, I became a provisional Custodian. Custodians supervise and are responsible for the physical operation, maintenance, repair, custodial upkeep and care of a public school building and its immediate grounds. I learned about the job opening for provisional Custodians from the Custodian who employed me. He also told me that the New York City Board of Education was seeking to hire women specifically.

5. I was lucky that I heard that the Board of Education was seeking to hire provisional Custodians, as the positions were not widely publicized, and recruiting for the positions was done primarily by word-of-mouth.

6. Under the settlement agreement in United States v. New York City Board of Education, implemented in February of 2000, I received permanent employment status as a Custodian. I also received seniority retroactive to November 7, 1994, my start date as a provisional Custodian. This amounted to a retroactive seniority award of approximately five years and four months.

7. As a permanent Custodian, I know that I cannot be moved from the school where I work into another school. Provisional custodians are often moved from school to school; as a result, their salaries vary and they find it more difficult to do their jobs because the constant moves undermine their authority. As a permanent Custodian, I enjoy civil service protections that I did not have as a provisional Custodian. I am also eligible for temporary care assignment, in which I temporarily take care of other buildings that lack a Custodian and earn a portion of the Custodian's salary for that building. Since receiving permanent status I have received one temporary care assignments and have thus been able to supplement my salary. I will seek more in the future.

8. As a permanent Custodian, I am eligible to bid to transfer to other larger schools that offer higher salaries. I also accrue seniority, which enhances my competitiveness in the bidding process, since when two or more individuals with the same job performance ratings bid for a single school, placement at the school is determined by seniority. Since I became a permanent Custodian, I have successfully bid to transfer once. I expect to bid for transfers again in the future.

9. Were I now to lose my permanent employment status, I do not know whether I would be permitted to remain employed as a Custodian. My understanding is that civil service laws do not permit provisional Custodians to be hired when there is a current eligibility list of individuals qualified for permanent appointment. Such a list exists today, which presumably means I could not be reappointed a provisional Custodian if I lost my permanent employment status. Thus, I fear that if I lost the permanent employment status I received under the settlement agreement, I could lose my job.

10. Throughout the litigation of United States v. New York City Board of Education, I cooperated with and assisted the Department of Justice attorneys working on the case. I understood them to be working on behalf of my interests. I directed all questions about the case or information that I thought would be relevant to the case to them.

11. In early August 2002, I learned that the Department of Justice was no longer defending my award of retroactive seniority and permanent employment status or the awards made to most of the other individuals under the settlement agreement, including almost all the women. No one from the Department of Justice or the Board of Education told me of this development. I was informed of this by Janet Caldero, a Custodian who had also received benefits under the settlement agreement.

12. After learning of the change in the Department of Justice's position, I called Charles Leggott, counsel for the United States. I told him that I understood that I was on a list of 32 individuals who were no longer being included in the Justice Department's case and who might lose their jobs. He told me this information was wrong and that I was not on any list. He then ended the phone call and did not give me a chance to ask further questions.

Executed this 17th day of October, 2002, in New York, New York.

Marcia Jarrett